Description

These simple meditations, one for each day of the year, have been prepared over four years with the ever-increasing conviction that God's redeemed people constantly need the "comfort of the Scriptures" in their daily lives. We have sought therefore to let our comments be few, and rather to bring together portions of God's Word relating to the subject at hand. A short original poem follows each reading.

It is our prayer that our gracious God will use these meditations to exalt His Beloved Son, our Lord Jesus Christ, and to bring comfort and encouragement to His own.
