

Sales price $2.95

Salesprice with discount

Description

Soft cover Pamphlet From the larger work entitled "Church of the Living God."

Psalm 93:5 tells us that "holiness becometh thine house, O LORD, FOREVER." Yet in every place and in every age, sin has broken out again among those who claim to be Christians.

What should others in the local assembly do?

This timely little booklet will help you explore Scriptures that teach us when to "put away" and when to "restore."

When do we merely "warn" and when do we "withdraw" from disorderly people?

When is a "public rebuke" needed and when can love cover a matter quietly?

What if a person is a "heretic" or "division maker"?

When should everyone stand apart from what is wrong, or can a matter just be a "personal trespass"?

We need God's Word and His mind to understand how to deal with these matters in His House. This book can help you and others in your local assembly understand these and other important questions. "For the time has come that judgment must begin at the house of God" (1 Peter 4:17).

68 Pages - Booklet - Author: R. K. Campbell