Description

Joseph is first of all presented to us like David-in character as a shepherd. "Joseph, being seventeen years old, was feeding the flock with his brethren."

No figure of Christ can be more beautiful than that of a shepherd, His tender care, devotedness, faithfulness, meekness, patience and sympathy.

Joseph rises on the horizon of his time like a beautiful star, that shines on and sets without a single cloud to dim its brightness. He is the Sirius of the shining host of Old Testament typical men.
