

Sales price $6.95

Salesprice with discount

Description

One day, quite suddenly, the clouds returned and the storm rose. The work was progressing splendidly. The priests and the merchants, the goldsmiths and earnest Baruch were all at their posts, when suddenly, as they looked up, they saw an unexpected sight.

A great crowd of Samaritans were gathered outside the wall, standing still, staring at them, and watching, their every movement as, they built the wall.

143 pages - Softcover - Author: O. F. Walton