Description

Andrew Miller, author of the well known Meditations on the Song of Solomon, was a gifted writer with a rich devotional style. "Meditations on the Beatitudes and Christian Devotedness" is a devotional exposition of the "beatitudes" of the "sermon on the mount" and of the twelfth chapter of Paul's epistle to the Romans. Originally reprinted from "Things New and Old," these are now presented in a more convenient form in a single volume for the reader. The author's prayer in presenting this work was, "We now look for the Lord's blessing to rest on, and accompany, these Meditations for His own glory and the blessing of many, many souls."
