Description

This book is written for the encouragement of fellow believers in the Lord Jesus Christ. If one who does not know Christ in a vital and personal way should read these lines, we would urge you to trust Him as the One who died for your sins and rose again. That which follows will then be applicable, and we trust, meaningful to you as well.

It is the writer's deep conviction that there is in the Lord Jesus Christ more than enough fullness to supply all possible needs, compensate for all possible losses, and satisfy all longings which we as believers may experience along the pathway on earth.

Likewise we are persuaded that through the present ministry of the Holy Spirit, "Who is the earnest of our inheritance" (Eph. 1:14), this fullness is available to even the weakest believer in Christ.
