Description

The Christian Home is under attack today more than ever before. Can we protect our homes and make them honoring to God? R. K. Campbell thinks so, and gives the reader a biblically based look at such topics as:

- Characteristics of the Christian Home
- The Importance of Marrying in the Lord
- The Roles of Husbands and Wives
- Headship in the Family
- The Roles of Fathers and Mothers
- Building a Home for God

According to the author, “if the Lord Jesus is the foundation stone of the Christian household, its blessed center and its glorious head, our homes will truly brighten this dark world around us.” If you are concerned about your home and family, you will benefit from the principles set forth in this book.
