Description

Pieta, a Filipino slave girl, had only one thing that was all her own, a little pig. After she was saved she wanted to do something for the Lord Jesus because he loved her so much. She decided to give her pig to the Lord. Her gift ended up costing her much more than her little pink pig. This story is only one of the many true stories in this book about kids from around the world. Each has its own lesson about the love and care of God for his children.
